Inner Peace Director, Caroline Trout, shared a CD with the group called "Be the Change" by James Twyman. The theme for this evening, as today is the anniversary of 9/11, is to be transformed from fear to love. The CD was provided by member, Cathy Beal, and expresses it is our choice to "be the change we want to see in this world" (Gandhi), and thus, change our world.

Special Presentation:

Remembering 9/11 and transforming ourselves from fear to love. Members shared inspirational readings that included messages of Forgiveness, Cooperation and Gratefulness.

Also included in the inspirational readings were quotes from Daisaku Ikeda, Dag Hammarskjold, Mother Theresa, Kabir Helminski, Satguru Sivaya Subramuniyaswami, the Prayer of St. Francis and an Interfaith Statement delivered to every Congressional Office and to the White House on Sept. 20th, 2001:

“Our American illusion of invulnerability has been shattered. From now on, we will look at the world in a different way, and this attack on our life as a nation will become a test of our national character. Let us make the right choices in this crisis – to pray, act, and unite against bitter fruits of division, hatred and violence. Let us rededicate ourselves to global peace, human dignity, and the eradication of injustice that breeds rage and vengeance.”

Also, a quote by Rabbi Arthur Waskow, seemed to sum it up well:

“Instead of entering upon a war of civilizations, we must pursue a planetary peace.”

Colleen stated that many of the quotes were taken from a book titled, “From the Ashes: A Spiritual Response to the Attack on America”, which is available on Amazon.com. Many used copies are only one cent – you just pay the shipping.

Colleen thanked all for coming this evening. With no further business, the meeting closed at 8:35 pm.
